Introduction

Peregrine Asset Advisers (PAA) is a fee only Investment Adviser. In the investment business, there is a difference between brokerage fees and fees for advisory services. We receive only a management fee from our clients that is dependent on the amount of money we manage. We do not receive brokerage fees or commissions.

Relationship and Services

“What investment services and advice can you provide me?”

We provide continuous and ongoing discretionary investment management so that our clients' money can grow. This includes account monitoring and financial planning. At our discretion, we use listed stocks, fixed income investments, mutual funds, and exchange traded funds. We do not receive compensation from outside parties based the securities used. Our account minimum is $100,000 but is subject to exceptions.

Fees, Costs, Conflicts of Interest, and Standards of Conduct

“What fees will I pay?”

It is important that you understand that you will pay fees whether you make money or lose money on your investments. These fees will reduce the amount of money you make over time. Please make sure you understand the fees you are paying.

Even though you pay fees, we always place the best interest of our clients ahead of our own and we will act in such a manner.

Clients pay us a quarterly management fee that is based on the amount of assets that we manage. This fee is charged in arrears, that is, after the management work has been performed. We do not have an alternate way in which any of our financial professionals are compensated.

You also pay commission fees for trading. We do not receive compensation for these charges by the brokerage firms. Our active investment strategy will often result in higher than normal trading commissions.

Our fee schedule is on our website at www.peregrineaa.com or on our SEC filing at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov/Firm/115738
